Lyra Star

DEBUT ALBUM A THOUSAND DREAMS

Born and raised in Nashville, Lyra Star just relocated to Los Angeles from the SF Bay Area and has been on the west coast since 2002. With a masters degree in Montessori education, she spent her entire life working in the field of education until this past June, when she decided to make the move down south where there are more opportunities for her two passions in life, yoga and music.

Achievements: The goal of being here in Los Angeles is to be able to network with others, be inspired by all of the creativity, and truly put myself out there as a yoga teacher and artist (singer/songwriter) in as many ways as possible. I've been pretty shy most of my life, but I have some unique talents that I would really like to share with the world. Working with kids is exhausting, so I need to give that up for the time being to see if I can make it as a musical artist, yoga instructor, model, and maybe even exploring other creative avenues as opportunities arise.

Mr. Flamboyant

RIVERDALE, GEORGIA U.S.A. (November 2017) – Accomplished artists Phalando “Mr. Flamboyant” Lawson along with his co-writer Andrell “Kilo Ali” Rogers, and producer Tino “DJ Taz” McIntosh make up the “Three legends from the South.” Now, this trio has merged their musical mojo to create their latest single “FLAM BOY ANT.” Together, they blend a flavorful concoction of hip-hop, rap, and world music into an energetic club groove where the old-school style creatively collides with the new-school sound. The single “FLAM BOY ANT” is the result of a Phalando, Kilo and Taz’s recipe for a savory southern-styled song. “FLAM BOY ANT” is a delicious dish of real southern rap – one that only legends could cook up. Phalando “Mr. Flamboyant” Lawson is no stranger to the music business, in fact, it’s in his genes. His uncle William Guest was one of the “Pips” of Gladys Knight and the Pips. Phalando’s skillset also includes acting and co-hosting Mbodyment Radio on WIGO 1570 AM (2017’s Stellar Award winner.) Andrell “Kilo Ali” Rogers is a bass music legend and helped co-write the song “FLAM BOY ANT.” Kilo’s previous successes as a songwriter include “Nasty Dancer” and “Show Me Love.” Tino “DJ Taz” McIntosh lent his skill as a producer on the “FLAM BOY ANT” track. “Taz’s previous hit singles are “That’s Right,” “Pika Pika,” and “Ride Out Music,” and they showcase his talent as a southern hip-hop master. “FLAM BOY ANT” is a culmination of catchy beats blended with a club groove. Mr. Flamboyant explains the stylistic inspiration behind the song, “For me, LL Cool J was my favorite artist and Tupac was an idol.” A music video has been released for “FLAM BOY ANT,” and is now available on Youtube. On August 5, 2017; these three musical maestros had the incredible opportunity to appear on The Mike Bend Show seen on TBS and Comedy Central. On August 11th, they performed at Charlotte, North Carolina's newest hotspot, the 360 Lounge. Kilo Ali, DJ Taz, and Phalando did an interview on Fox 54 in Columbus, Georgia on Sunday, August 20th. Mr. Flamboyant, Kilo, and DJ TAZ performed on August 19, 2017 at the Wolf Creek Amphitheater in Atlanta with Big Boi of Outcast, Goodie Mob, The Dungeon Family, T.I., Jeezy, and Pastor Troy. Mr. Flamboyant has also done various radio interviews as well. The video for FLAM BOY ANT was released in August. The video for Mr. FLAM BOY ANT has reached over 8 million views on WORLD STAR HIP HOP and OVER 400 THOUSAND views on YOUTUBE. Mr. Flamboyant, Kilo, and DJ Taz are not only legends, yet top-shelf chefs of the southern hip-hop sound.

Taken together, they have all the skill sets and ingredients needed to spice up the stylistic sounds found within "FLAM BOY ANT." Once you get a taste of their recipe, you'll be begging for more, and that's just what they have planned. They'll have more material soon for their fans and big plans. Just don't ask them for their famous recipe, it's secret, special, and rare.

OKLAHOMA...the name conjures up thoughts of Native America, as the word itself comes from a Choctaw phrase meaning 'red people'. Pictures of the dust bowl days might pop into your mind...you might even recall reading Steinbeck's 'The Grapes of Wrath' and briefly relive the Joad's fictional journey yonder west. Or, in stark contrast to Steinbeck's narrative, perhaps you envision the cornfields, lush meadows and southern Oklahoma mountains as portrayed in the opening scenes of the movie version of Rogers and Hammerstein's "Oklahoma." You might even find yourself humming a few bars. But other than that, grain, cattle, gas and oil come to mind as the notable things about Oklahoma...oh, and of course, FOOTBALL...BEDLAM!

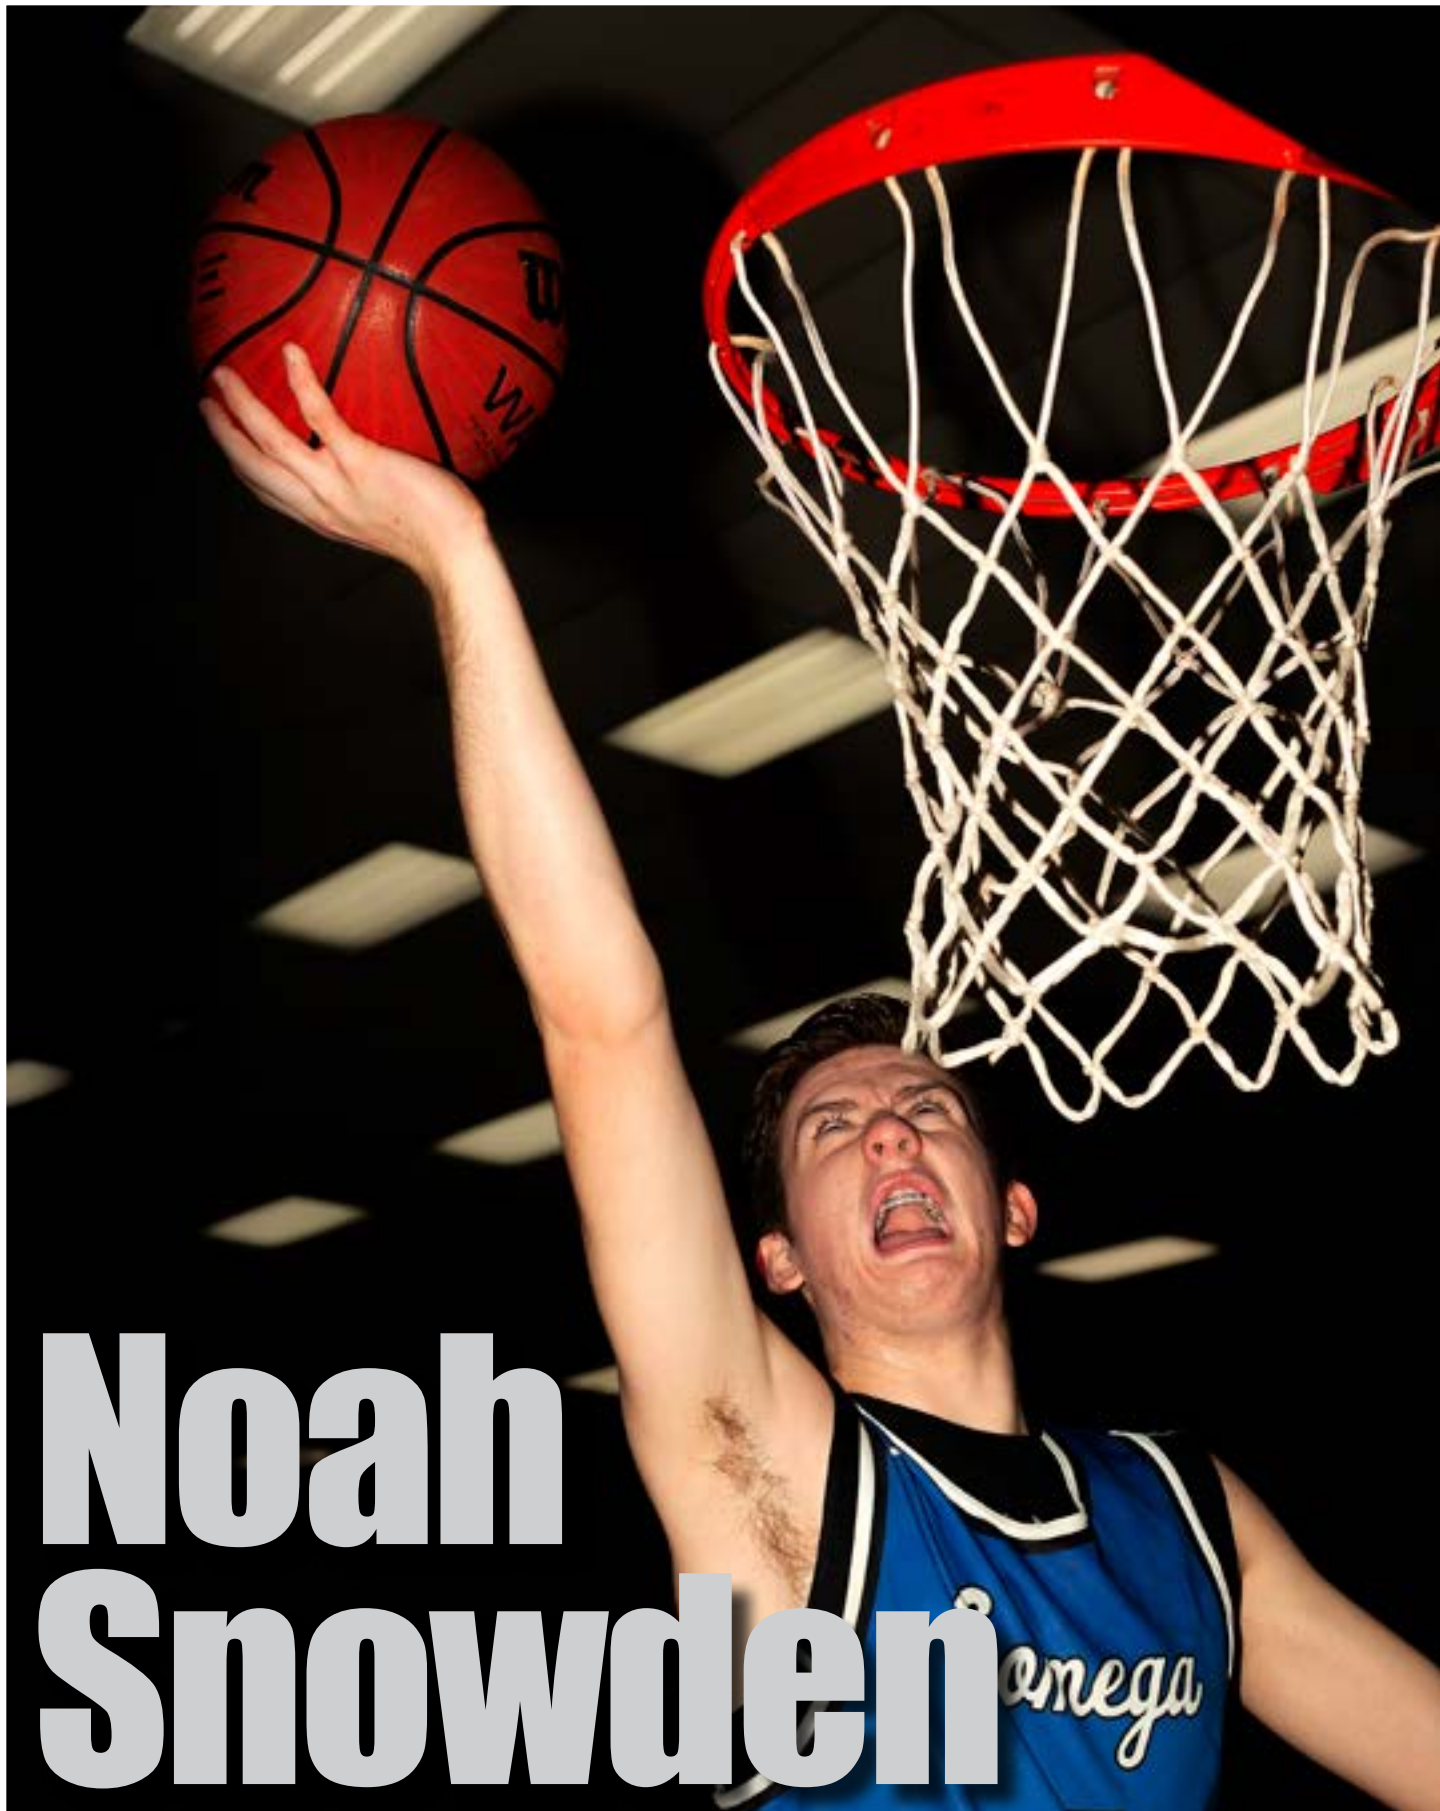

But since the summer of 2008, Bedlam has a rival for its billing as Oklahoma's top sports story. On July 2nd of that year THUNDER BASKETBALL rolled into Oklahoma City, bringing with it all the clamor, glamour and chatter associated with the NBA. The Thunder quickly rose to prominence as one of the elite NBA franchises with their perennial appearances in the playoffs. Now, we still have bedlam and the Big Twelve Conference. There's all those big names in sports that have come out of Oklahoma...MLB's Mickey Mantle and Johnny Bench, the NFL's Steve Largent, Troy Aikman and now, the newly minted Arizona Cardinal QB from OU, Sam Bradford. And now add NBA basketball to the mix of headline grabbers here in Oklahoma.

And rightfully so. Indeed, several NBA icons hail from Oklahoma. There's Chicago Bulls' center Stacey King (three consecutive championships with Michael Jordan). Sports writer Sean O'Dowd, in his list of "Michael Jordan's Top 10 Most Important Team Mates", awards King both the #9 AND #10 spots. Mark Price, one of the games great point guards...an amazing shooter and adept at splitting the double team, he was a defender's nightmare in the years before his knee injuries. More recently, former OU star Blake Griffin has carved out a name for himself over on the west coast with the Clippers.

So what does all this have to do with a small-town kid from western Oklahoma? Well, in the not-toodistant future, sports writers may very well be adding that kid's name to this vaunted list of sports greats. Keep the name Noah Snowden tucked away in corner of your brain. Snowden is just in his sophomore year at Lomega High School but he already has some major accomplishments under his belt, including both a state AND a national championship as a star player on his AAU Synergy Team, 14 and 15-yr-old division.

At 6'4" and 185 well-placed pounds, his presence is formidable on both ends of the court. His Lomega Raiders stand poised to make a solid run deep into the state playoffs this season. Snowden figures to be a big part of that run. He also qualified to compete in the 400 meters at last year's state track meet. His relay team came in 4th in the state at that event. In other words, this kid can get up and down the court in a hurry! Further, his passing skills and ball-handling skills seem to be progressing nicely. Additionally, he has already won an award (as a freshman) in Kingfisher County for his academic prowess. He is the sophomore class president and is planning to run for FCA president next year. Overall, Snowden presents a well-rounded, highly talented and teachable young athlete who has a penchant for leadership and whose aspirations reach heights measured in lightyears.

One last thing...a shout out from the young Snowden to fellow Oklahoma native, Bill Self. It seems the young man's itinerary for his journey toward success includes a 4-year layover in Lawrence. Yes, the future Jayhawk wants his name on TWO lists. The list of sports greats out of the state of Oklahoma AND the list of iconic names dotting the NBA landscape out of the University of Kansas! Great accomplishments and success begin with big dreams, hard work and dedication. Enter Noah Snowden. He also boasts a great support network of family, friends and coaches. So keep an eye on this kid, Coach Self. He hopes to be coming your way in about 3 years!

Tiffany Champagne

Tiffany Champagne is a Model-Actress originally from NYC but enjoying life in Hollywood.

She comes from a conservative upper-class upbringing and has an education in the Arts and Acting fields.

Having been raised in New York City, she socialized with the models that were going to the same private school in NYC. "Tiffany: I was shopping in Bloomingdale's with them at 14 years old and buying Chanel purses. Their lifestyle so impressed me, and everyone around me suggested I try modeling I was signed up to a big NYC agency where I started to do Modeling for junior fashion. Wearing lots of make-up for photo-shoots, I got to be a blonde and looked 18 years old. Of course, I pushed the limits. My parents were somewhat shocked at my make-up and grown-up looks, but I knew this was what I wanted. It was the very best time of my life, and I was addicted to it and knew it was what I wanted to do."

It was so much fun wearing all the makeup at an early age and being a junior model.

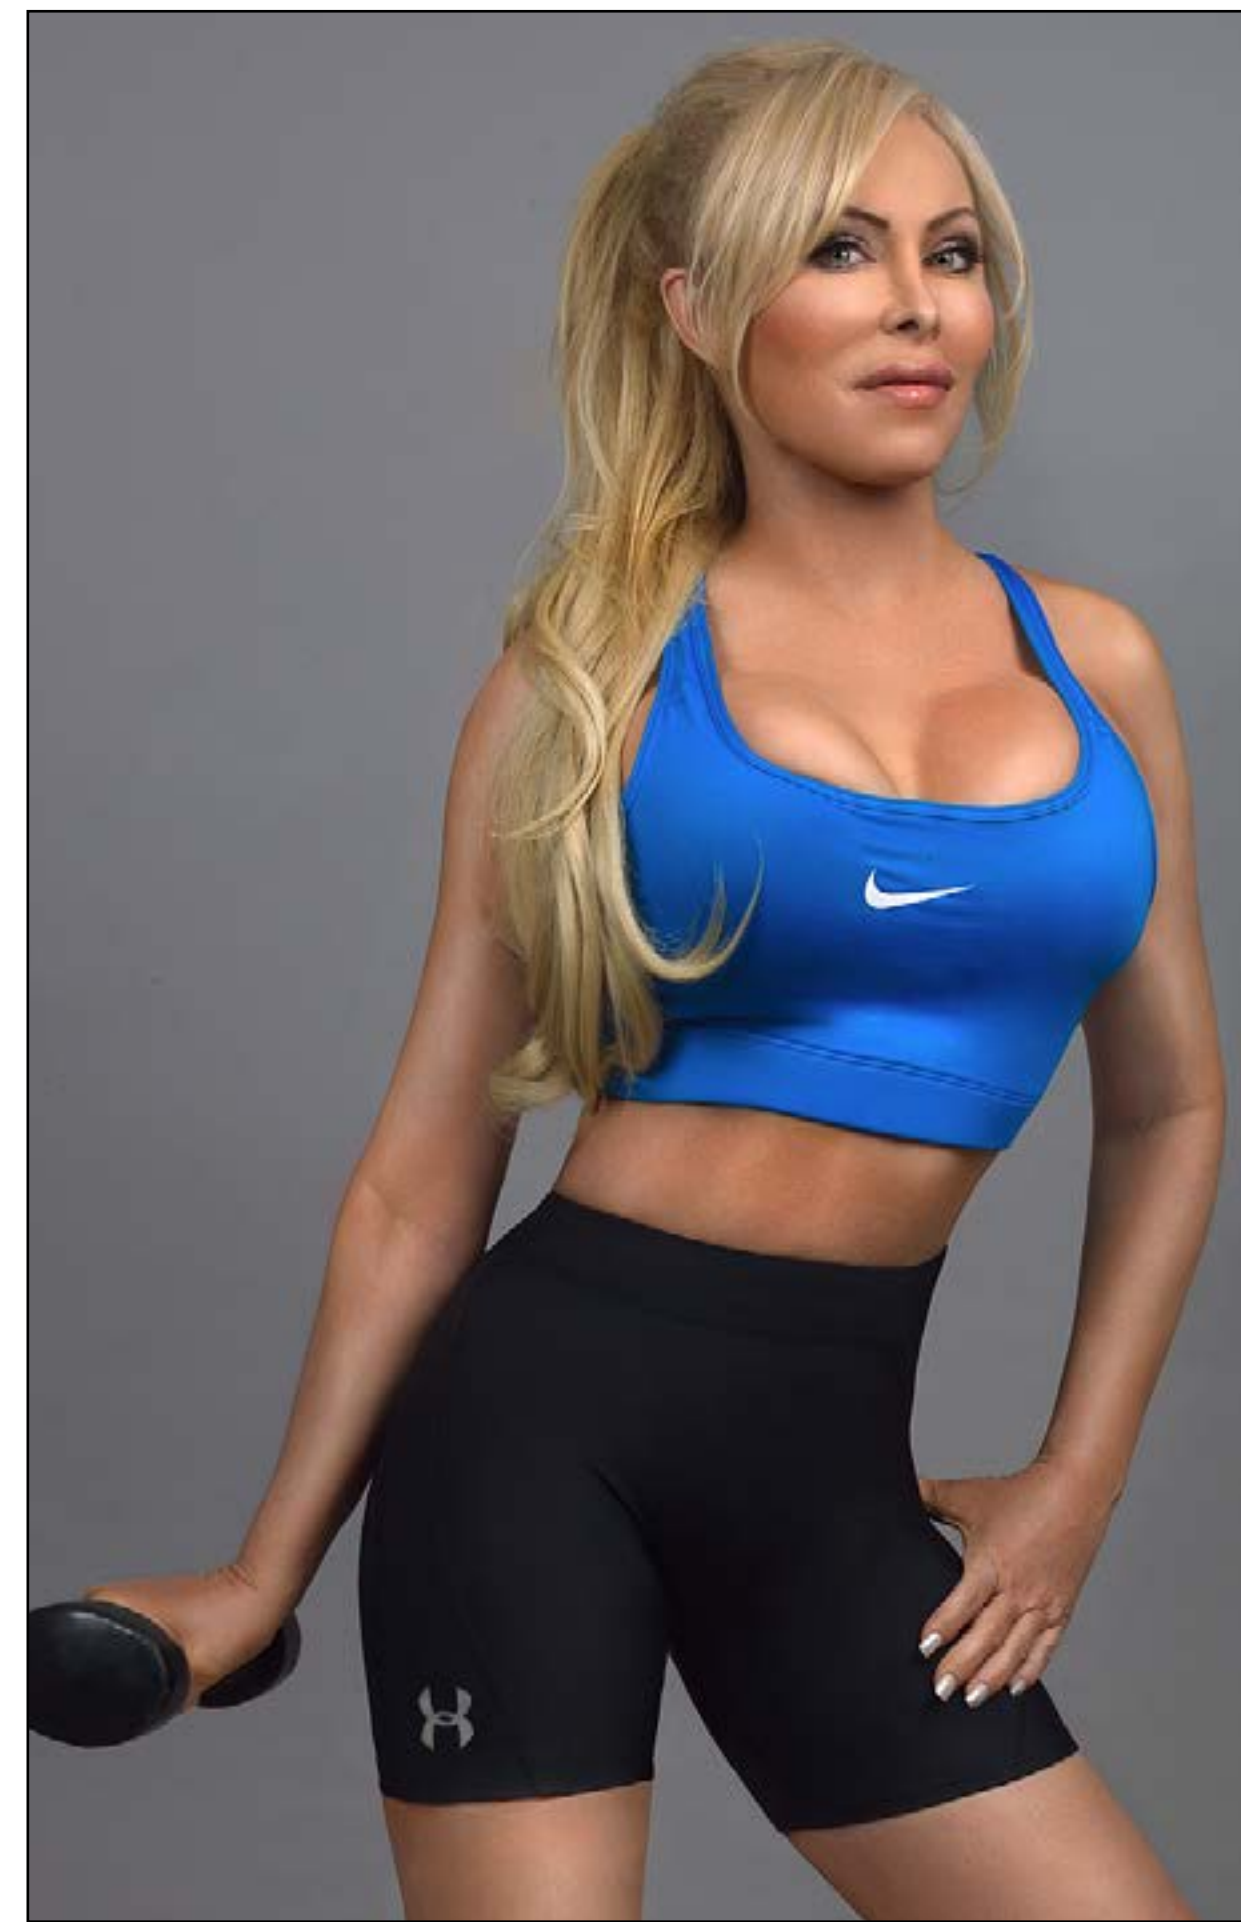

Tiffany knew she wanted to be in the creative fields and went on to Art College and studied Acting with some famous acting schools in Hollywood. She is a published model and has acting credits to her name.

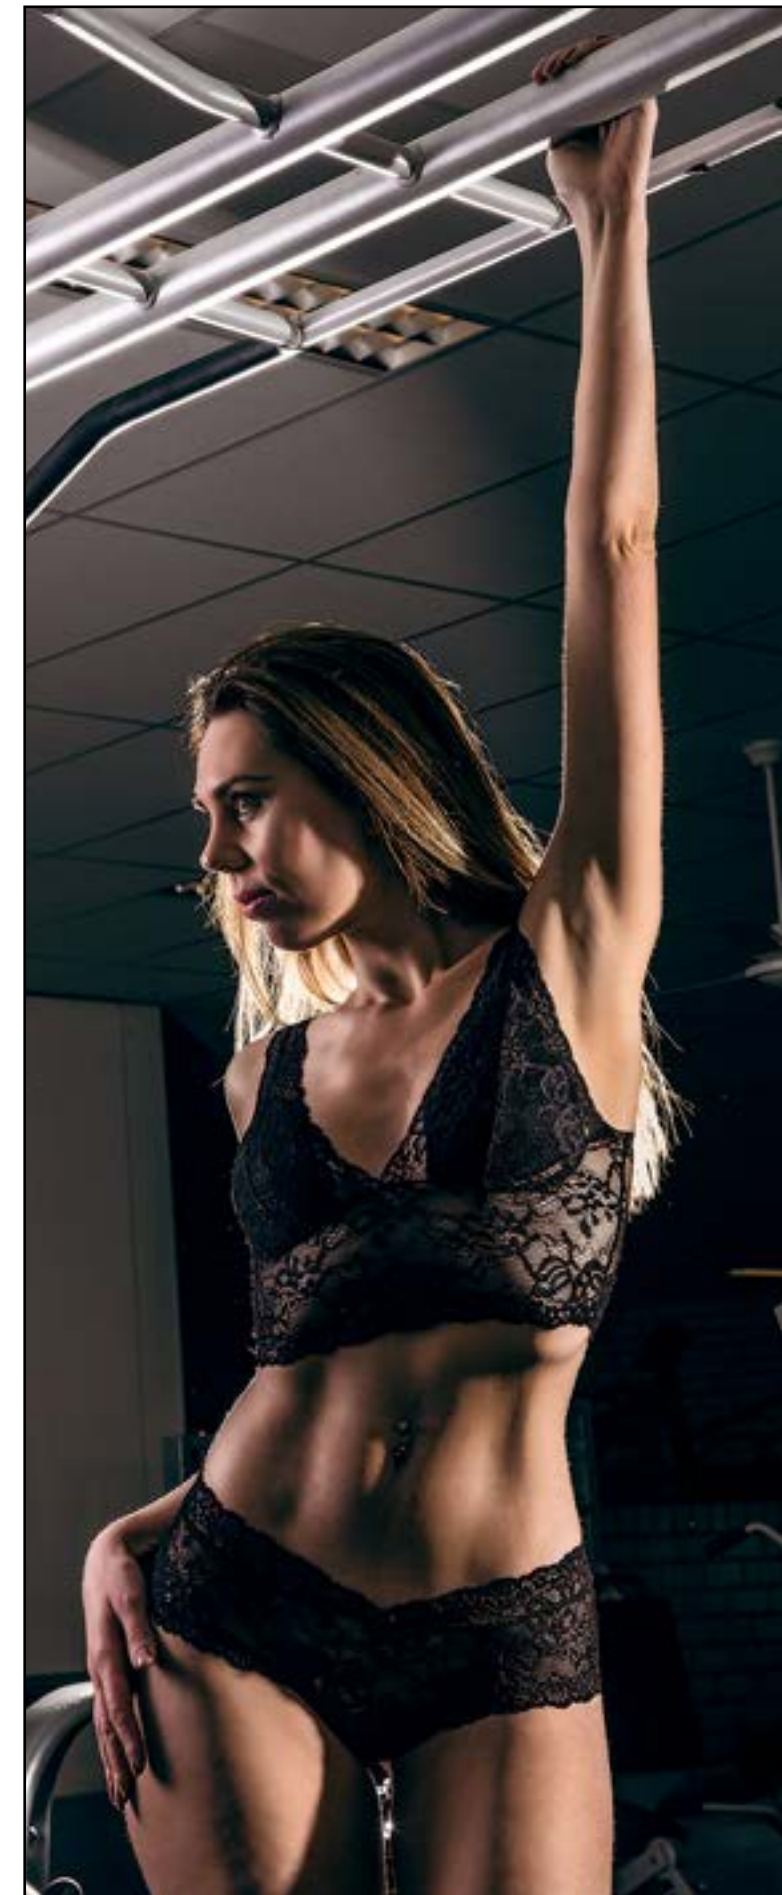

In a few years, my family moved to California where my dad was transferred to a high position.

I went to prominent acting classes and studied acting which led to some acting projects.

Achievements:

Who is the greatest love of my life? I haven't met the love of my life yet but it could be in the future.

When I opent my Facebook account I start to have request from photographers to be their model for photo shootings. After a while I start to consider modelling as a new way in life and I want to explore it at the maximum.

As an passionate sportive women I love sports photoshoots . I recently completed my certification in Scuba diving. I am also planning to furtherly complete a free diving course and to combine the two disciplines. The idea is to start modelling underwater and to develop this speciality.
