Alysson Duarte Rodrigues

Hi, my name is Alysson Duarte Rodrigues (A Duarte) and I am a brazilian self-taught artist based in France. I started my career as professional painter after many years in the academic scientific research and I am very happy with this change. In my paintings, I am drawn to the expression and movement of emotions on a canvas until the technique is surpassed by the feelings". As a poet from my hometown (Divinópolis - Brazil) could say: "I don't know why I am attracted to this object, but I am happy that it exists". This feeling that cannot be explained or that many artists, philosophers and poets spend their whole lifes trying to express through their works is my anchor and my main approach in painting. I am actually participating of some art expositions and competitions and I am receiving a lot of support from an international audience. My paintings are presented by 8 different galleries based in (USA, Russia, France and Africa) and I am slowly building a very solid relationship with my public. As a dream, I wish my art could bring joy to every home it enters in one big never-ending movement. Best regards. A. Duarte

Agnieszka Bykowska

My name is Agnieszka Bykowska and painting is my favorite hobby and great passion. Thanks to painting I want to express my feelings, emotions and sensitivity in the best possible way. My dream is also to share with others my joy of life in front of beauty, colors, lights and uniqueness of surrounding world. All the time I'm looking for finding the satisfying way to show in paintings what I feel in a given moment of my life. Therefore I use different means of artistic expression like: realistic convention, elements of magical realism or abstraction. For several years I have been participating in artistic workshops both in studio and outdoor to improve my painting knowledge and skills. I took part in few collective expositions presenting effects of artistic workshops. Many of my works took part in art auctions in polish art galleries (like Xanadu art Gallery in Warsaw and PopArt art in Poznań). Some of my works found new owners. Next year I plan to organize my individual exposition in Warsaw.

I have dream about art but first I want to explain how I understand that I'm painter . it happened once in childhood. when I was 5 years old. instead of flowers on the wallpaper, I began to notice strange or scary faces and was afraid to even sleep in this room.

the second episode was a little later, my mother asked me to write a person. it was the simplest drawing, but turned upside down. Mom could not understand why I was drawing, but for me it was obvious and funny. I just drew this person for my mother sitting opposite .. the third time I remember a moment from art school. when I was not in the previous three lessons and all this time our group was drawing a still life. So I came on the last day - when I needed to complete three days of art work and made a small sketch. I thought it was wonderful in its unfinished version and I did not continue. the children who drew with me laughed that I stopped and walked around the classroom watched the work of other students. As a result, the teacher chose my sketch as an example and gave a high mark, explaining that this work is easy and good in its unfinishedness.
